

“Integrate technology and knowledge to improve your world”

Telecommunication is the essential foundation for economic development of a country and clearly today, being connected is the strategic success factor for individuals and corporations. With the industry booming and the rapid growth of cities and suburbs, Telecommunication corporations are obliged to use the advantages of technology to build effective network infrastructure and pragmatism network management system to coop with the evolution of industry.

Based in Ho Chi Minh City – the commercial center of Vietnam, UNIQ Global specializes in providing integrated conception services for Telecom Network Underground Infrastructure. Our core team and partner have extensive experience of network infrastructure development for major telecom companies in Canada and United States.